“Heather has been working with my organization for the last two years. During that time she has enthusiastically embraced the responsibility of facilitating an employee engagement group. Designed to determine how to continually improve our work experience, Heather has successfully engaged this group in team-building, enhanced communications and focusing on the positive. Happily, I can report that with Heather’s assistance, our company raised in ranks from the bottom tier of The Denver Post’s Top Workplaces in 2017 to a top 10 finisher in 2018 and again in 2019! I look to Heather for many of our leadership & organizational development needs.”
